

21st Century Teambuilding

Program Description: Not only is teambuilding here to stay, it's growing and becoming more of an integral part of our personal and professional lives. Don't miss out on the opportunity to discover how building teams can assist your group or organization in staying leading edge and at the top! Whether you are building teams on a local, national or global basis, effective teambuilding can improve the way in which your groups and organizations conduct business, accomplish goals and recruit and retain members. In this workshop, you will learn:
