

Meaningful Motivation: Effectively Managing Volunteer Talent!

Program Description: Motivation – nothing happens in life without it! It's one of many core life elements that we need to recognize and manage to accomplish even the smallest goal or task. Why do we, at times, experience difficulty in getting up in the morning, fulfilling our day, making the sales quota or persuading others to do their jobs? Knowing your goals, assessing where you are today, and why and how you want to accomplish the goal, are basic elements that comprise the structure of self-motivation. Motivation is the “fuel” we need to keep our “mental motors” running on high. Participants will learn how to identify factors that enhance motivation and how to improve our motivation skills. Life gets better when we're motivated! This program is intended for anyone desiring to enhance their motivation skills, particularly those who manage or work with volunteer staff.
